ORDER SHEET

| | 1. | 29/05/2023 | The complaint would relate to medical negligence as well as hospital negligence.The complainant got his wife admitted at the CE for planned Caesar. The Caesar was accordingly done and a baby was born at about 4.58 pm. However, there had been excessive bleeding that could not be controlled. The patient went into shock. She was given blood transfusion and ultimately referred to higher set up where the patient breathed her last.The complainant would contend, he had already approached the West Bengal Medical Council as against the concerned gynaecologist. |

S.P. Mukherjee, 12/06/2023.

He has also complained as against the CE. The CE has ICU unit. Immediately after the Caesar the patient should have been taken care of by the CE. There had been delayed blood transfusion that made the situation worse. Hence, the hospital cannot avoid their responsibility. They must compensate for the loss that the complainant suffered due to untimely demise of his wife.

The CE is not represented online despite notice being given. Our Office has already contacted the CE over phone. The concerned representative would contend, the patient was brought by the concerned gynaecologist and the Caesar was done by her. When the patient became critical she was transferred to higher setup by the concerned gynaecologist herself.

The CE had no role to play. They did not receive any money on account of treatment either from the complainant or anyone on behalf of the patient or from the doctor.

S.P. Mukherjee, 12/06/2023.

The complainant would also admit, the hospital charges had already been realised by the concerned doctor before the Caesar. They only paid the medicine bill and the blood transfusion charges directly to the CE.

We have considered the rival contentions. On our request, Prof. Dr. Runa Bal, an expert on the subject, is present. She has also evaluated the medical records as shared by the CE. According to Dr. Bal, the patient was under IVF procedure. She was on steroid. She was having hypertension. Patient had placenta previa percreta.

Dr. Bal as well as the medical Members present in the panel, are ad-idem on the issue, we should wait for a decision of the West Bengal Medical Council.

In case the complainant is successful before the West Bengal Medical Council he would be at liberty to approach us afresh on hospital negligence.

The complaint is disposed of.
